

Clinical Training in Family Engagement Survey

The National Family Support Technical Assistance Center \(NFSTAC\), run by the National Federation of Families \(NFF\), has partnered with Boston University's Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation to create resources to increase clinicians' efficacy in family engagement.

NFF and NFSTAC provide free resources, training, and technical assistance to families, caregivers, and those who support families accessing mental health and substance use services and to clinicians interested in increasing their knowledge of best practices to engage with Family Peer Specialists and family members.

We have created a brief 9 question survey (shorturl.at/aceuJ) that takes 3-5 minutes to complete which will help guide our efforts in creating resources that meet the needs of clinicians to engage with families in behavioral health settings. Please complete this survey by March 30, 2023 to share your experience around receiving instruction in family engagement during your formal education and training.
